

Welcome on earth

What is that? What is this? Planet before!
Which is bright? Which is blue?
Welcome on earth.

Green men come from an other land,
Green men come to see,
That we open our hands?
Do we save the sea?
Has the humain heart and friend?
Is the humain free?
Has the fairytale an end
With love and harmony?

No, there're lies and this is not true
So I hope and expect from you,
That you save and love this blue ball,
But I know, we all will fall.....

Green men see the criminal,
Green men see the hate,
As we laugh and cry, we all
Are inadequate
We don't see a lot of flaw
That's one evil fake,
Which us stop like one dark grey wall
But we don't escape!

Yes, there aren't lies and this is now true
'Cause I hope and expect from you that you break and destroy this grey wall
but I know, we all will fall

Refrain:

Welcome on earth,
Welcome to be free.
Welcome on earth,
Welcome to be free.

No, lies, no, lies

Green men see a lot of things
On the planet earth,
Which are very interesting
And to save it worth.
They can never understand
Why human care for them,
So the foreign hope again,
That we see the same.

Yes, that's true the hope's for some new
'Cause I wish and expect from you
That you love and save this blue ball
And I know we never fall.....

Welcome on earth,
Welcome to be free.
Welcome on earth,
Welcome to be free.
Welcome on earth,
Welcome to be free.
Welcome on earth,
Welcome to be free.
